

Supplementary figure legends

Figure S1. Vitamin D levels of all survey participants along Chilean territory. Population from North of Chile exhibit higher serum vitamin D levels compared to population from the south territory, being rather deficient for the latter. It is noteworthy, that no region present population with recommended serum vitamin D levels, which is higher than 30 ng/ml.

